

Baydon St. Nicholas

Church of England VA Primary School

Roots to grow, wings to fly

SHAKESPEARE WEEK

Although sad we could not hold our end of week display of all the marvellous activities and work we have completed over the past week, we hope that this extra special edition newsletter will suffice.

Throughout the school every class explored the play A Midsummer Nights Dream. We hope you enjoy seeing the results as much as we have enjoyed learning about it.

Kites and Sklylarks looked at Shakespeare in Pop Art style, very recognisable portraits indeed!

I must go seek some dewdrops here, And hang a pearl in every cowslip's ear

Robins looked at the fairies in particular in A Midsummer Nights Dream and created fairy dances and beautiful patterned butterfly wings.

Hawks were writing away so much this week that even William Shakespeare would have been impressed! Tales of travelling back in time to the Globe Theatre, debating whether Hermia's father should have chosen who she married and retellings of A Midsummer Nights Dream were some of the tasks they completed.

William Shakespeare

Handwritten text on lined paper, likely a student's work. The text is partially obscured and difficult to read, but appears to be a retelling or analysis of a scene from A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Handwritten text on lined paper, likely a student's work. The text is partially obscured and difficult to read, but appears to be a retelling or analysis of a scene from A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Handwritten text on lined paper, likely a student's work. The text is partially obscured and difficult to read, but appears to be a retelling or analysis of a scene from A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Goldfinches were busy creating fairy wings, dancing and making wooden spoon people based on characters from A Midsummer Nights Dream.

Hawks designed and created fairies in groups, based on the fairies MustardSeed, Cobweb, Peaseblossom and Moth.

If we shadows have offended,
Think but this, and all is mended,
That you have but slumbered here
While these visions did appear.